

Now Mr. Naresh Tiwari Don't Need To Take Diabetes Medicines

You might have heard this saying –
Once a diabetic is always a diabetic

But this is not always true. We at Bite&Diet help you to reduce your dosage of medicines or completely eliminate them. Which means you don't need to take medicines at all – Sounds chill! Yes but it's possible.

Mr. Naresh Tiwari who was a diabetic since many years has made this possible. Now his fasting blood sugar is always less than 90mg/dl which is a great motivation for all those who blood sugar is always higher.

You normal fasting blood sugar should always range between 80-100mg/dl and post meal should not be more than 150mg/dl. But generally people with diabetes have higher blood sugar.

When this condition arises we are generally recommended to take medicines to reduce blood sugar. But many times even with medicines people are unable to manage their blood sugar. Their blood sugar is always higher than 150mg/dl. This is a serious condition because higher blood sugar has negative impact on your body and they are damaging your organs.

But now we need to understand that managing these chronic conditions like Diabetes is a multidimensional approach. These cannot be treated or managed effectively without Diet and lifestyle modifications.

Your current lifestyle is what brought you here. Continuing to live the same way just means your condition is worsening every day and your dosage will need to increase to keep you safe.

This leads to loss of health and money both.

The largest components of medical expenditures are:

- Pathological tests
- Physician office visits
- Medicines
- Hospital inpatient care

Indirect costs include:

- Organ damage like liver and kidney.

- Unwanted side effects of medicines like weakness or loss of energy, dizziness, weight gain or weight loss without trying, loss of sleep etc.
- Reduced energy and productivity
- Inability to work as a result of disease-related disability

Mr.Naresh Tiwari joined Bite&Diet on 1st June 2021. He was taking diabetes medicines since 10 years. He was also having complained of allergy and taking medicines for that since he was young.

ANTI-INFLAMMATORY DIET WORKED LIKE MAGIC

He was not overweight; so losing weight will not work for him. So we recommended Anti-inflammatory diet for him.

Difficult to believe but within a month his blood sugar was normal, his allergy has also reduced. His highest fasting blood sugar recorded was 109mg/dl and lowest was 84mg/dl.

He can now manage his Blood Sugar effectively with healthy diet & lifestyle modification

DIET TO STOP HYPERTENSION

But its human body we don't know what's going inside unless it is monitored. One day he casually checked his BP and it was 134/85. Suddenly his BP started increasing and his highest systolic blood pressure recorded was 140mmHg.

To manage his blood pressure he was recommended some herbal supplements and again focused on, "Diet to stop hypertension". This diet worked for him and slowly his Blood Pressure started reducing.

His average monthly blood pressure recorded was:

Blood Pressure
1 st month	134/85
2 nd month	128/86
3 rd month	123/79

It is reducing day by day. Some fluctuations can happen in between due to slight change in lifestyle. Although it is normal now, we are fully confident that we will be able to reduce this even lower within few more weeks.
